

Wild Earth
Pinot Noir
Central Otago 2007
awarded

92 points
by Robert Parker,
Wine Advocate Issue #184
September 2009 issue

"The 2007 Pinot Noir has a refined nose with a more red fruit profile: redcurrant, maraschino and raspberry. Good definition although it is a little closed compared to others. The palate has very fine tannins, fleshy and very well balanced with wild strawberry, raspberry and a touch of sous-bois. Very refined and elegant on the finish. Feminine and wily. Drink now - 2012."
-Neal Martin

"Another great wine from the award-winning Wild Earth. "

San Francisco Wine Exchange
www.sfwe.com

Wild Earth Wines
www.wildearthwines.co.nz