

Wild Earth Central Otago
Pinot Noir 2007

ranks as

TOP WINE

for New Zealand
Pinot Noir
by Cuisine

in their November 2009 issue

This was the act that stopped the show. Every judge gave this accomplished Pinot five stars in their first round of tasting; the applause grew with each encore. Broad and concentrated and deft in structure, with highlights of bay leaf and sweet aromatic herbs adding intrigue to a dark berryfruit center, it trod a middle path between masculine and feminine, urgent and languid, yin and yang.

“A life-affirming wine, if ever there was one.”
